Hi!

I have a lot of available space to rent to certain businesses. Obviously restaurants wouldn't work, but some of the others would for sure.

Please keep me posted. This could be a win win situation.

Thank you,

After seeing the story about the POC merchants going to the Harbor Commission meeting, i'm wondering if any effort is being made to have those shops relocate in Downtown San Pedro [during the construction years] ?

The situation 'sounds' like one in which the Harbor Commission isn't just going to toss them out without some sort of trying to do something for them - ?

Helping those tenants relocate to temporary space in Downtown San Pedro makes a lot of sense.

And y'all are probably way ahead of me on that. But i haven't heard anything about it, so thought i'd ask.

Thanks again for the great job PBID has been doing.
